1 AGRICULTURE PLANNED LAND APPLICATION REVIEW (APLAR) INFORMATION

1.1 Introduction

This document contains information to assist applicants in submitting an application under APLAR. Please read all documentation before starting your agricultural lot application. The documentation consists of an APLAR Release Package for the specific lot, as well as this Information Package and Instructions to apply for an Agriculture Lot through the APLAR Process.

If you have any questions about the application process or any other related matter, call the Agriculture Branch Office at (867) 667-3022, or visit our office located on the 3rd Floor, Elijah Smith Building, 300 Main street, Room 320A. We are happy to assist you.

1.2 Background

The Agriculture Branch (AB), part of the Yukon government's Department of Energy, Mines and Resources, is responsible for supporting the growth of a successful local agricultural economy. Sale of planned agriculture parcels is one way that the AB supports the growth of agriculture.

The sale of agricultural land is governed by the Lands Act and Regulations. The Regulations require that all agricultural land sales be conducted according to a land application process administered by the AB, that the Minister may sell land to the successful applicant under a 7 year agreement for sale, and that agreements for sale must include a Farm Development Agreement (FDA). FDAs must contain a plan for development and management of the farm lands. Development expenditures can be used to off-set the cost of purchasing the agricultural land.

Historically, AB used a lottery process to select the successful applicant for planned agricultural land and then assisted the applicant in creating a FDA. However, the emphasis on development did little to ensure that the farm would be commercially successful.

1.3 The APLAR Process

The APLAR process requires all applications to include a "Project plan" that demonstrates that the land acquisition will be a sustainable commercial farming enterprise. The Project plan consists of 11 sections (see Release Package). Each Project plan will be compared to and rated against Project plans submitted by other applicants for the same parcel. The lot will be offered to the applicant that submits a Project plan that best describes an economically viable operation. By shifting the emphasis from development to economic viability, the resulting project will have a greater potential for commercial success and thus will contribute to the growth of the local agricultural economy.

1.4 Additional Information

The lot will be sold on an “as is, where is” basis.

The allowable activities on the lot will be governed by the applicable Development Area Regulation, zoning, and the Proponent Commitments and Terms & Conditions stated in the relevant Yukon Environmental and Socio-Economic Assessment Board (YESAB) review. These documents set out the terms and conditions that must be met by the successful applicant.

2. Glossary of Terms
